1. The laws of the organization must be considered by every manager, aspiring to increase the effectiveness of the organization. As it is widely known, the General laws of organization are: composition, proportionality, smallest act, ontogenesis, synergy, order, analysis and synthesis, self-preservation.

In 1897, a gold-bearing area was discovered in northwestern Canada, in the basin of the Klondike River. The chain of events that followed this discovery was called the «gold rush» and this period continued until 1963. This state of affairs was characterized by the rapid growth of gold mining joint adventures, construction of roads and other enterprises.

What organizational law is manifested in this situation?

2. The diet of animals on a farm consists of two types of feeds: F1 and F2. One kilo of F1 costs ₺80.0 and contains: proteins 3 units, fats 1 unit, carbohydrates 1 unit, nitrates 2 units. One kilo of F2 costs ₺10.0 and contains: proteins 1 unit, fats 3 units, carbohydrates 8 units, nitrates 4 units. Make up the cheapest diet that provides proteins at least 9 units, fats at least 6 units, carbohydrates at least 8 units, nitrates no more than 16 units.

What is the proportion of the optimal diet? What is the price of the optimal mixture per kilo?

3. The chocolate company promises that for an investment of ₺ 4,500,000 it will pay a lump sum after 3 years at an annual interest rate of 13%.

What will be the future value of the investment?

4. In Saudi Arabia, a newspaper advertised an American airline with an image of an attractive flight attendant pouring champagne to happy passengers. The advertisement presented business class. Many passengers canceled their booking with this airline.

Why did they do that?

5. You are applying for a managerial position to some company and you are invited to a group interview.

Based on our conversation today, who would you hire in this room? What does the panel want and what will the best answer be?

6. The company appoints Mr Jones a new head of department. He does an excellent job, but spends a lot of time checking the reports of subordinates. Even those employees who have never made mistakes are tested.

With large amount of work, Mr Jones has to stay until late at night, but even so he does not have time to submit reports in time. Because of the delay, incentive payments are reduced, as a result, the entire department have not got their bonus, although the employees did their job well.

What should Mr Jones do in order to keep up with his duties, and the department receive their bonus? Which of the solutions really improves the situation?
